MARSHFIELD

The installation of Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters will take place at the hall next Monday evening, public to the Knights and their families.

Mrs. Clara Morris of St. Johnsbury was at the home of her father, Abijah Bemis, the first of the week, returning to her home Wednesday noon.

Abijah Bemis, who has been in ill health for several years, and for several months in a critical condition, died at about five o'clock Wednesday evening. Burial services were held at the house at one o'clock Friday.

For the next year the following officers of the local lodge, K. of P., will be installed next Monday evening: C. C. Silas Houghton; V. C. Harry Moore; P. Edwin Spencer; M. of W. Ernest Douse; K. of R. and S. Arch W. Cole; M. of P. C. H. George; M. of E. E. A. Rosebrook; guards, I. James Bouldry, O. Nathan Plumley.

The local order Pythian Sisters will install the following officers for the ensuing year: M. E. C. Laure S. Wilson; E. C. Genevieve Lambertson; E. S. Ava George; M. of T. Gertrude Mearns; M. of F. Lettie Bouldry; M. of R. and C. Bertha Hall; P. of T. Mardelle Tucker; G. of O. T. Eva Thomas; P. C. Nellie Southwick; trustees for eighteen months, Idella Unwin.

At the last meeting of the year of the Pythian Sisters, a goodly number of members were enrolled and one new member initiated. The reports of the year were read and approved and go to show a prosperous condition of the order, financially and socially. For the good of the order, Mrs. Bertha M. Hall read a partial original poem, which was appreciated by all, and received due applause. That others may have the benefit of the lines, we print the following:

Another year has rolled around
And brought its joy and pain;
Our hearts to-night with mirth abound
As here we meet again.

Remembrance fills us with good cheer
As past days come to mind;
We've had some pleasant meetings here
In the year that lies behind.

In the year that lies behind my friends,
In the year that lies behind,
We'll take a cup in kindness yet
For the year that lies behind.

The excellent chief who graced our chair
Has ruled with dignity.
Our mistress of finance has with care
Attended to every duty.

Our scribbler—well, she worried thro',
No fault we wish to find.
Our ex. committees were true blue,
In the year that lies behind.

All here to-night have paid their fee
And shown their little card;
The rest will "pick up," you'll see—
To leave us would be hard.

With Sister Wilson in the chair,
And love our hearts to bind,
We'll for a happier year prepare
Than the one that lies behind.

Then "three times three" and with a will,
For the year we've just begun,
Marches and drills our mind to fill
Mixed with a little fun.

Our life is short and good cheer rare,
So let us all be kind;
And we'll look back with joy next year
On the year that lies behind.

In the year that lies behind my friends,
In the year that lies behind,
We'll take a cup in kindness yet
For the year that lies behind.

GRANITEVILLE.

The concert given last week for the manse fund was a decided success in every way. Every part was rendered with efficiency and was loudly applauded by the large audience present. The hall was filled to the doors. As shown by the proceeds which netted $38. We hope Rev. Mr. McArthur and family will favor us again in the near future with another of the same.

The Ladies' Aid society held its annual meeting last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Louis MacLeod, with a large attendance of members. Very gratifying reports were given by the different committees. The following officers were elected for the year: President, Mrs. William Earl; vice-president, Mrs. A. Wells; treasurer, Mrs. George Sailer; secretary, Mrs. W. A. Fraser. Our next meeting will be held with Mrs. Robert Mitchell in Websterville on Jan. 20.

See if There is Left Any Stomach Distress

ALL INDIGESTION GOES

A Dieted Stomach Gets The Blues and Grumbles For a Good Eat—No Use to be Afraid of Your Favorite Foods Then.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to stomach trouble knew the tremendous digestive virtue contained in Diapiesin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourness, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50 cent case of Diapiesin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, belching of gas and eructations of undigested food, water brash, nausea, headache, biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives, to keep your stomach and intestines clean and fresh.

If the stomach is sour or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't tempt you, why not get a 50-cent case today from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is often sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapiesin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

A ROYAL SITTING ROOM.

Queen Alexandra's Taste is Conservative, but Absolutely Perfect.

Alexandra, queen of England, sets the fashions for Great Britain. The queen's taste is conservative, but perfect. It is so faultless that paintings and photographs of this beautiful woman made years ago never look old fashioned or out of date.

The portrait of her by Winterhalter, made just after she was married, though presenting her in the crinoline of the time, shows the elegantly dressed woman even to the critical eye of today, for the keynote of her taste is simplicity, and that is the one thing that never grows old fashioned.

Though in the sixties, the queen has still a perfect figure, which is always dressed in long lines to accentuate its height, whether in her coronation robes or in a simple tailored waist and skirt. The queen disdains furbelows of any kind, and many another queen, piling the Ouse of trimming on the folds of frills, has wondered why she could not achieve the distinction of the British queen's simple attire.

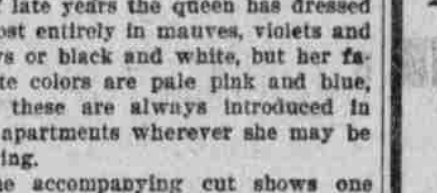

Of late years the queen has dressed almost entirely in mauves, violets and grays or black and white, but her favorite colors are pale pink and blue, and these are always introduced in her apartments wherever she may be staying.

The accompanying cut shows one of her favorite sitting rooms done in white and pale pearly gray silk. The rug and draperies introduce the pink and blue, and, as in all apartments of the queen, there are quantities of flowers. The plants in this room rest in gray wickerwork jardinières. The furniture is of the first empire, the screens and pillows in broadcases showing pink and blue on a gray foundation. The whole shows the perfection of refined simplicity.

BASKET FOR CLOTHES.

Of Great Assistance to Women Who Are Their Own Laundresses.

An excellent device that would be of great assistance to the housewife is the combined clothes and clothesline receptacle shown in the illustration. Ordinarily the wet clothes are carried from the wash tub to the yard in an ordinary wicker basket for attachment to the clothesline. The dripping water collects in the bottom of the basket, soon rotting and destroying it. The basket shown here is made of galvanized wire to prevent rusting. The mesh being wide, the water from the wet clothes readily drains off. At one end is a receptacle for the reception of clothespins, while suitable straps are secured to the back by which it can be supported at some convenient point.

Seamen's Union Plan a Great International Organization.

The Seamen's Union of America, in annual convention at New Orleans, has laid plans for a worldwide movement in its particular field of industry. A resolution was adopted in the convention to the effect of calling the seamen's unions of the world, calling them to a general conference at the earliest date practical. At this conference it is proposed to perfect an organization which will be thoroughly international in character and scope.

Secretary Frasier will at once get into communication with the seamen's unions of England, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, Germany, Spain, Austria and Australia, and every effort will be made to hold the conference at an early date.

It is generally understood that the International Federation of Shipowners, formed not long ago, is taking into membership the shipowners of every country in Europe as well as those of America. It is thought that this fact inspired the action of the seamen's convention looking toward a combination of all the seamen of the world.
